FFCRA payroll tax credit

---

- Employee can take emergency paid sick leave and emergency paid family and medical leave so an employer can receive up to $12,000 in tax credits
- Not required from 1/1/21-3/31
- Support for tax credit – Employee must provide:
  - Employee's name
  - Date(s) for leave
  - COVID-19 reason for leave
  - Statement from the employee unable to work or telework due to COVID-19 reason
  - Government entity or health care provider who issued quarantine order for employee or individual employee is caring for OR proof of school or day care closure with statement from employee stating no one else is available for childcare

Does My Business Qualify for the Employee Retention Tax Credit?

Step 1: Who is an eligible employer for 2020?

---

- Fully or partially suspended operations during any calendar quarter in 2020 due to orders from an appropriate government authority limiting commerce, travel or group meetings due to COVID 19 OR
- 50% reduction in gross receipts compared to same calendar quarter in 2019
- Other considerations
  - Cannot double dip with FFCRA payroll tax credit
  - Controlled groups are considered a single employer
- CAA Update: Previously NOT eligible if you had received a PPP loan, but now can retroactively obtain credit
  - Cannot double dip with the PPP so any wages for which a taxpayer claims an ERC are NOT eligible to be forgiven as part of the PPP process
  - Can elect to not include wages for ERC to have them qualify for PPP forgiveness
  - What does this mean for employers who already applied for forgiveness and want to now claim ERC?

Step 2 – Did the employer pay qualified wages?

What are qualified wages?

---

- Qualified wages must be paid after March 12, 2020 and before January 1, 2021
- Health care plan expenses will be considered qualified wages
  - This includes health care expense paid for furloughed employees
- Maximum of $10,000 qualified wages per employee for a potential $5,000 credit per employee for all of 2020

$$\text{Qualified Wages} \times 50\% = \text{Employee Retention Credit}$$

- When does it end?
  - If business qualified due to shutdown, only count wages paid while the business was shut down
  - If business qualified due to reduction in gross receipts, count wages paid in quarter where reduction occurred. Wages continue to be eligible until the END of the quarter in which gross receipts are at least 80% of the same quarter in 2019.

How do I Apply for the 2020 Employee Retention Tax Credit?

- Employers could utilize credit on quarterly tax return – Form 941 to reduce tax due
- Any excess credit could be claimed on Advance Payment of Employer Credits due to COVID-19 – Form 7200 or carried forward to another quarter

ERC 2021 – Who is an eligible employer?

---

- Fully or partially suspended operations during Q1 or Q2 of 2021 due to orders from an appropriate government authority limiting commerce, travel or group meetings due to COVID 19 OR
- 20% reduction in gross receipts compared to same calendar quarter in 2019
  - Important to note this is compared to 2019 NOT 2020
  - Also, an option to compare immediately preceding calendar quarter to the corresponding quarter in 2019. Ex. If Q1 2021 doesn't meet test, comparing Q4 2020 with Q4 of 2019. If there is a 20% decrease in gross receipts than Q1 2021 would be eligible.
- Other considerations
  - Cannot double dip with FFCRA payroll tax credit
  - Cannot double dip with PPP loan forgiveness funds used for payroll
  - Controlled groups are considered a single employer

ERC 2021 – Did the employer pay qualified wages?

ERC 2021 – What are qualified wages?

---

- Qualified wages between January 1, 2021- June 30, 2021
  - If business qualified due to shutdown, only count wages paid when the business was shut down
  - If business qualified due to reduction in gross receipts, count wages paid in quarter where reduction occurred. Wages continue to be eligible until the END of the quarter in which gross receipts are at least 80% of the same quarter in 2019.
- Health care plan expenses will be considered qualified wages
  - This includes health care expense paid for furloughed employees
- Maximum of $10,000 qualified wages per employee PER QUARTER for a potential $14,000 credit per employee for 2021

ERC 2021 – How to Claim Credit?

---

- If an employer has less than 500 employees, it can elect to receive an advance payment of the ERC for that quarter.

- If more than 500 employees
  - Employers could utilize credit on quarterly tax return – Form 941 to reduce tax due
  - Any excess credit could be claimed on Advance Payment of Employer Credits due to COVID-19 – Form 7200 or carried forward to another quarter
